TWO JURORS PRE-ARRANGED, SAY HENSIELE, AND JUROR HEARD CRIMINALS CHEER AND THREATEN

Three Men Swear They Were Together When Juror Hensiele Said He Knew Frank Was Guilty, and Five Say They Individually Heard Him Say the Same Thing—Three in Same Family Attack Juror Johnenning

AFFIDAVITS SAY JURYMEN TALKED TO PEOPLE WHILE WALKING ALONG STREET

When Crowd Cheered for Dorsey Outside Court Room, Declare Affidavits, the Jury Members Looked Out of the Windows and Noticed the Demonstration—Cheers in Court Room Also Mentioned

SENATORIAL affidavits to support the contentions of the defense of Leo M. Frank that two of the jurors, who tried him were pre-arranged, and that people evaded the guards and spoke to the jurors; and that the jury must have heard the cheers for Frank's prosecutor, were served on Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey by Attorneys Rosser and Johnson on Saturday, following the postponement of the argument in the case. The crowd about the court was so hostile, the affidavits say, that threats of violence from the crowd were made.

Three men swear that they were together when Juror A. Hensiele made a statement to the effect that he was sure of Frank's guilt, while five others swear that they individually heard him make the same statement.

Three members of the same family swear that they heard Juror M. Johnenning remark before the trial that he considered Frank guilty of Mary Phagan's murder.

In repositions Shy Gray T. M. Johnson and John M. Holmes all of declare in a general conversation that Frank was guilty. The state's attorney declares that during the latter part of June 7, Hensiele made a statement to the effect that he was sure of Frank's guilt, and that he was sure of Frank's guilt, and that he was sure of Frank's guilt.

C. P. Stough, of Albany, Ga., declares that Hensiele in the presence of Mack Farhan in speaking of Frank said: "I know he is guilty. Farhan is an affidavit says that Hensiele remarked, 'I believe he is guilty.'"

HENSIELE THOUGHT NECK SHOULD BE BROKEN.

Julian A. Lehman, of Atlanta, declares that during June he was on the train between Atlanta and Experiment, Ga., and that he saw Hensiele and Johnenning and that they were talking about Frank's case.

Samuel Rosser declares that he was on the train between Atlanta and Experiment, Ga., and that he saw Hensiele and Johnenning and that they were talking about Frank's case.

LEWENHART AFFIDAVIT. H. C. Lewenhart, who works for the Hudson Bros. company, declares that he was on the train between Atlanta and Experiment, Ga., and that he saw Hensiele and Johnenning and that they were talking about Frank's case.

Mrs. Jennie G. Lewenhart and her husband, John, declare that they were on the train between Atlanta and Experiment, Ga., and that they saw Hensiele and Johnenning and that they were talking about Frank's case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The first effect here of the new tariff law was felt last night when it was learned that the clerical force at the customs house was increased by fifteen men in anticipation of one of the busiest days in the history of this port. The customs officials began business an hour earlier than usual to take care of the flood of applications for release of the cargo of imports which has been accumulating in bonded warehouses awaiting the tariff cuts.

In no district customs office in the country will there be greater activity during the first days of the new tariff law than at the port of New York, for in the forty-eight bonded warehouses there are now $10,000,000 worth of goods awaiting release.

Importers have been instructed to get their goods out of the warehouses as early as possible, and it was expected they would attempt to withdraw more than half of the goods at once.

There are many different items in the warehouses, but the most common are cotton, linen, silk, leather goods, and foodstuffs, such as flour, sugar, and oil.

When President Wilson returned from the golf links today he found a pile of telegrams, congratulating him on the signing of the new tariff bill.

The messages came from chambers of commerce as well as political organizations from various parts of the country. The congratulations came in many cases the sentiment "now for currency legislation."

The White House and executive quarters generally there is confidence that the currency bill already passed by the house will be passed by the senate and signed by the president before many weeks.

Leaders of United Democracy See Mr. Wilson Sign Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Surrounded by the leaders of a United Democracy President Wilson signed the tariff bill last night at the White House. Stimulating telegrams were sent to customs collectors throughout the country by the treasury department, put into actual operation the first day of the tariff revision since 1894.

A happy group of legislators, members of the cabinet and friends crowded the president, as he smiled and slowly affixed his signature to the two-page bill.

In impressive address the president said and delivered his message of approval and encouragement to the nation. He declared that the journey of the tariff bill had only been partly completed, that the journey of the tariff bill had only been partly completed, that the journey of the tariff bill had only been partly completed.

He said that the journey of the tariff bill had only been partly completed, that the journey of the tariff bill had only been partly completed, that the journey of the tariff bill had only been partly completed.

GREAT SERVICE DONE.

"Gentlemen, I feel a very peculiar pleasure" said the president, "that has just done by way of taking part in the completion of a great piece of work."

Atlanta was the next convention of the Christian church, which will be held in October 1914.

This year was convened in a telegram received Saturday morning, signed by H. M. Patterson and Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the first Christian church, who are now in Toronto, Canada, attending the annual conference of the International Christian Meeting.

An international Christian meeting means that there will be at least 10,000 visitors brought to this city from all parts of the globe, as the convention is an international one. The visitors will represent both ministers and laymen, as every church will send one or more delegates in addition to its minister.

This large gathering will spend ten days in Atlanta. Only the ministers will be entertained at the homes of the church people. The delegates, many of whom will bring their families, pay their own expenses and stop at the hotels. Every church is allowed one delegate to every 100 members of its congregation.

The convention was held last year in Pittsburgh, San Francisco was then chosen as the convention city for 1915, when the Panama exposition will be held. The 1915 was left an open date, and there were representatives present from all over the world.

At the convention in Pittsburgh last year there were large groups of delegates from Florida and Georgia, who went in a special train.

WIN FOR ATLANTA.

This year Dr. Bricker and Mr. Patterson left, firmly determined to bring next year's convention here. They had the promise of many votes from the delegates they had seen at Pittsburgh.

Dr. Bricker is known as one of the best workers in the city. He was the originator of the contest for the largest attendance on any Sunday school, which his church won last year, and for over a month held the world's attendance record.

ALLEGED SHORTAGE IN COLUMBUS, GA., BANK

Books Kept by Geo. H. Waddell, Treasurer and Prominent Young Citizen

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 4.—No arrest was made up to noon today in the case of George H. Waddell, suspended treasurer of the Home Savings bank, alleged to be short in his accounts with that institution in the sum of $15,000 following a partial audit of the bank's books.

Waddell is at his home in Wynton, he is under bond in the sum of $15,000 with the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance company, of Boston, which according to a published statement by the directors of the bank fully protects the institution from losses.

The bank was opened and the audit continued today. There were many withdrawals, but nothing like a run on the bank.

Toehsky came to the surface with many blacked wrapped about his shoulders. Back of him was a miner with hands untrained ready to assist. If he should be needed, but Toehsky walked with astonishing agility considering his long imprisonment.

When he dropped on to the wooden platform, just outside of the mouth of the mine, and was first able to stand upright he heaved for an instant and looked upward as if in great agony to the world or scanning the sky and muddy zig-zag path which led to the opening of the mine breach.

His miner's cap was on his head when he crawled through the opening of the tunnel and greeted his rescuers. His lamp was in place upon his cap and burn brightly.

The most noticeable thing about him was a pallor which showed through the thin skin on his face, contrasting strangely with the other blackened miners, whose ruddy color showed even through the dirt of dust.

Toehsky was the first to speak. He spoke in a low, hoarse voice, and his words were full of questions to how he felt was "dull." Just before he went out of the tunnel he was entranced to permit the passage of his body the miners entered the mine.

One asked what he was doing, and he replied: "I am going home. This is no boarding house, no good bed, no spring, no nice hearing masses."

Trillable of the town turned out to see Toehsky as he was whistled along the streets in an automobile. His wife and five children waited for him at the door of his home. He got out of the car and walked up the steps to his family embracing them all in turn, and kissing the baby repeatedly.

Describing his experience Toehsky said when he was closed in he thought he would be crushed to death, as several thousand wagonloads of coal piled towards him from the bottom of the shaft. In fact, one of the boys ran away. Continuing, Toehsky said, "I was in there for seven days and ten feet. I had been entombed twice before and rescuers had dug me out, but they would again take care of me."

Entombed Eight Days, Rescued Miner Says He Is Feeling "Bully" Now

Eight Days of Underground Imprisonment Ended Saturday Morning When Thomas Toehsky Was Dug Out

(Associated Press.)

CENTRALIA, Pa., Oct. 4.—Thomas Toehsky, prisoner since Friday of last week in an abandoned chamber of the Continental mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, walked into the open air, a free and comparatively well man, at 12 minutes before 1 o'clock this morning. He was taken to his home in Centralia, three miles away from his underground prison, and at once put to bed, apparently none the worse for his remarkable experience.

Toehsky came to the surface with many blacked wrapped about his shoulders. Back of him was a miner with hands untrained ready to assist. If he should be needed, but Toehsky walked with astonishing agility considering his long imprisonment.

$2,853,863.88 GAIN IN ATLANTA BANK CLEARINGS

This Gain Is Over the Corresponding Week in 1912. Prosperity Reflected

Bank clearings for Atlanta showed another large gain in the figures given out today.

For today as compared with the corresponding date last year they gained $2,853,863.88, and for the week, as compared with the corresponding period of 1912, they show an increase of $2,853,863.88.

This is a larger gain than last week, which was over $2,800,000.

The increase reflects the effect of the clearing of the crops and the high prices paid for cotton and other farm products.

Money for these products banks and jobbers.

Reports from the cities and towns in Georgia and Alabama are cotton centers that business in all lines is extremely active. There, of course, feed a quicker effect from the marketing of the crops, and the same effect is beginning to be felt here and will increase rapidly.

GIRL NOW DECLARES OELRICHS ISN'T GUILTY

Case Against Young Millionaire Dismissed at District Attorney's Request

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Herman Oelrichs, millionaire law student at Columbia university, was discharged in police court today when criminal charges of stabbing Lucille Singleton, daughter of a Texas mine owner, were dismissed at the request of Assistant District Attorney O'Malley.

Miss Singleton confessed yesterday that there was no bad for her previous declaration that Oelrichs had stabbed her.

Miss Singleton was not in court today, as she is still confined to her room as the result of injuries sustained in the accident seven weeks ago. Her father, a Texas mine owner, was riding with her in the automobile in which she was riding with her.

FRANK WILL NOT HANG ON NEXT WEEK

Hearing for New Trial Is Now Set for Next Saturday and Will Come Before Judge Roan

The hearing for a motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, which was set for Saturday morning before Judge L. S. Roan, at the request of Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, was postponed until next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

As Frank was sentenced to hang on October 16 Judge Roan issued an order staying his execution indefinitely. He stated that this will not occur until after the case has gone through the supreme court, even if the motion for a new trial is denied.

INFORMAL DISCUSSION.

The discussion before Judge Roan Saturday morning was entirely informal. Solicitor Dorsey stated to the court that he had been served with a voluminous document, setting forth grounds on which a new trial is sought, and that he was going to go through the record and prepare his answer.

Attorneys Lester Z. Rosser and Reuben E. Arnold said that they believed with the solicitor's familiarity with the case he could get his answer ready within a week. Mr. Dorsey replied that he was anxious for the motion to be set for trial, as he was confident that the jury was in a prejudiced state and that he was willing for the case to go to the supreme court. If he is not ready at that time he would ask for a further postponement.

Generally expected that the solicitor will announce ready next Saturday morning for Frank to be tried again with the evidence on which the motion for a new trial is sought. Mr. Dorsey closed his office, and denying themselves any callers and working exclusively on the motion.

SOLICITOR'S ANSWER.

The solicitor asked that the attorneys for Frank furnish him with the copies of the evidence on which the motion for a new trial is sought. He stated that he was willing for the case to go to the supreme court, and that he was willing for the case to go to the supreme court.

Mr. Dorsey said that he was willing for the case to go to the supreme court, and that he was willing for the case to go to the supreme court.

Tech Came With Citadel Team Will Be Started at 3 o'clock

Early Games This Season Prove Harder

All the Larger Eastern Colleges Are Taking on Opponents That Will Certainly Make Them Hurtle

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Football games of a more strenuous character than heretofore mark the opening of October gridiron schedules in various parts of the country.

In the east the games to be played by Pennsylvania and Cornell will be watched with unusual interest, since both the Quakers and Ithaca eleven face colleges which last year scored decisive victories over them. In the case of Pennsylvania the team which appears to be the hardest contest of the day, for in Lafayette the Red and Blue face perhaps a better eleven than won by a score of 7 to 5 over the Quakers last autumn.

Cornell college, which defeated Cornell 13 to 0 last season, is not represented by as strong a team this year, while the Ithaca eleven has demonstrated in football circles that the big red team won for Cornell in 1912.

In other respects the schedule of eastern games contains little that is out of the ordinary. Harvard meets Bates in what is little more than a practice game, and Yale has the University of Michigan on which to try some of Tom Shellen's new plays.

The Army and Navy eleven both will start the season on the coast, the Army and Navy academy faces Swarthmore at West Point.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 4.—Princeton and Fordham had fine weather for their football game here today. They have not met since 1895 when Princeton won by the score of 2 to 0. The Tigers expected to win the game because they have a heavier team than Fordham.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 4.—The strongest eleven that Harvard has gathered since the game with Yale last year lined up against Bates today.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 4.—The strongest eleven that Harvard has gathered since the game with Yale last year lined up against Bates today.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—The Pennsylvania football team, which was defeated by Lafayette college last year, 7 to 0, expected a hard game with the easterners today on Franklin field. Lafayette was a veteran of the game of confidence and is playing a fast game. Pennsylvania is expected to win the contest without the services of Captain Young.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 4.—Friday was an unfortunate day for the Philadelphia champions, because the weather was too cool and the game was a pitchers' game. A good turning up for the world's series and unfortunate because of the first baseman's injury, Philadelphia suffered a broken right hand. Philadelphia's first baseman, who was hit by a 10 and New York, the second, which was called on account of darkness.

Indiana and Chicago Meet In Warm Game

Games in the West Are Attracting Attention - Michigan in Hard Game With Case Eleven

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Football battalions of the central states swing into battle lines Saturday in a series of combats which signalize among other things, the opening of the campaign for the conference championship.

Chief interest is the first clash of two "big nine" eleven, Chicago meeting Indiana in a game that carries the importance because of the unusual strength the Hoosiers showed last Saturday against DePaul.

Outside the conference, Michigan's opening game with Case is attracting most general attention because of the hint it is expected to give Cornell and Ann Arbor squad. Case, an ancient opponent of the Wolverines, is expected to make a better showing against Yost's men than it did last year when Michigan won 31 to 0.

Coach Zuppke's first game comes when Illinois meets Kentucky Saturday. Alumni of the Urbana school are anxious to see what the new coach has done with his material, which though he is lacking in capable heavy men.

Notre Dame, later to meet several eastern favorites including the Army will have a fair try-out in the game with Ohio Northern.

Tech Offense To Get Trial In This Game

Citadel Reported as Being Strong-Game Will Start at 3 o'clock-Citadel Strong on New Football

At last the Tech football warriors are to get a thorough test, the game of last Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock against the Citadel cadets from Charleston calling for real work on the part of the local collegians. It is the first real workout of the season and after the game the followers of the team will have some notion as to what kind of team Tech will turn out this season.

Of course it is expected that Tech will win, but at the same time it is expected that the game will be a close one. The Citadel is quite well coached and good work on the offense proved quite a bit in the first half. As to the team's defensive ability we know it is poor the Jacker's fast back field will make a runway affair of the game, and if it is unusually strong the Tech forwards will must certainly have to brace up and give the Citadel a chance to get away.

The Tech team will present will not be the strongest as yet, many players, either by the fact of the season or by being in the lineup. Patton has not yet sufficiently recovered from the injury of the fray, while Leeb has been in the hospital for several days and does not yet know all the signals and formations. However, it is expected that Tech will be the better team in the long run.

The game is to start promptly at 3 o'clock and the admission is to be 10.
